Your Psychic/Soul Development & Joyous Living in Hard Times

Dear Friends and Awakening Souls,

Are you joyful? Would you like to live more joyously, even in these challenging times? Well, I hope this letter finds you smiling, regardless of what is happening in your life or in the world. Because, one thing is for certain today: We are living in uncertain times. These are difficult times for all of us, even if some of us may feel more fortunate than many others that we are in good health and have adequate finances to see us through for a while. But, challenges come in many and diverse forms. While one person's greatest hardship may come in the form of a devastating illness, another's may strike as a sudden, unexpected loss of a loved one. Still another may be daily facing the question of where to find clean water or edible food. Even many of those who still have a job are daily dealing with fears that showing up to work may be their death sentence. And, those who are by their nature healers and caregivers, perhaps doing quite well themselves, may nonetheless experience deep emotional suffering from seeing the suffering of those they feel they cannot help. Indeed, we are all living in uncertain and challenging times.

Yet, regardless of what makes it most challenging for you in living in this world today, the first step for you to make a change for the better is to be happy. That may seem like a tall order or even a ridiculous proposition. Many people think that times like these are definitely not times to laugh or even think about enjoying life - there are way too many serious, life-threatening problems lurking around every corner that we each have to address. Many may feel that those who are too happy are either in denial or shirking their responsibilities for others' welfare and only thinking of pleasing themselves. Or it may feel to many who are struggling that those who are joyful are being insensitive to them and their suffering.

It is said that misery loves company. Yet, the very problem with misery is that it lacks loving. If misery actually loved company, it would cease to be miserable. Happiness provides us with our first step toward our loving - and our healing - personally as well as globally. Hope comes from at least a glimmer of happiness. When we are suffering in any way, it is up to us to choose happiness over continued suffering, if we hope to heal ourselves to a better experience. Ultimately, there are two types of experience that we can have: We can be happy or suffer.

I just read about a hospital in Manhattan that was overwhelmed, like many others, with the pandemic. One of the things that this hospital implemented to help the staff and patients cope with the around-the-clock fear, anxiety, deaths, grief, and seeming futility, was playing the Beatles' "Here Comes the Sun" over the hospital-wide PA system, each time a COVID patient recovered enough to be discharged. First of all, it's an uplifting, happy song written by George Harrison. He wrote it when he was at Eric Clapton's home, during a long winter of discontent amongst the Beatles. It is a song of hope and reassurance that even if it's been a long, cold and difficult winter in our lives, the sun will shine again and everything will be all right. For those in that hospital, every time that song plays, it's a validation and a cause for celebration. It's a song that inspires us to change our focus from whatever our suffering may be to our happiness, healing, and purpose for living. And, that is our first step to the rest of our lives, especially during hard times.

Would you like to live more joyously, even during uncertain and difficult times? Would you like to make the decision to drop your suffering and be happy - and be able to follow through with it? This is where your psychic - or soul - development becomes essential. For, without awakening to your inner spiritual beingness, there is no happiness or experience of joy. Without getting to know your soul-self better, there is no more lovingness. This is why so many people experience their wake-up calls following intensely challenging times. The experience of suffering pushes us to delve deeper within our own inner soul-self. And, with a little more experience and understanding of our inner spirit nature, we access more of that everlasting peace, love, and joyousness of life. We begin to appreciate the deeper purpose of our lives.

Amongst all of your various psychic abilities, the most important ones that offer you your experience of spirit are your clairvoyance, intuitive knowingness, and mediumship. These are the levels of awareness that humanity collectively is waking up to more and more at this time. It is this global waking up process that is breaking up old systems and societal structures that have not been working. As we live through the challenges of the old making way for the new, it becomes imperative that we not only develop, but gain mastery of the nature and workings of our soul/spirit-self. And, the more we progress with this process, the happier we can be and the more joyously we will live, even through challenging times.

To help you with your on-going spiritual growth process and be able to experience more joy during these turbulent and changing times, we've decided to offer this powerful and fun "Inner Awakening" Remote Retreat. You will get to explore the nature of happiness as well as unhappiness, learn to make the choice to be truly happy over continuing to suffer in some way, and discover what "makes" you happy. You will also learn to develop more of your innate clairvoyance, intuitive knowingness, and mediumship abilities so that you can access more of your inner joyousness. Of course, you will learn more about what clairvoyance, intuition, and mediumship really are and their importance in your overall spiritual growth. And, as always with our teachings, you will learn simple, but powerful psychic tools and spiritual practices to help you with all of this.

We welcome you to join us for this fabulous 3-day remote inner awakening retreat from the comfort and safety of your home or "sanctuary-in-place" of your choice! We'll give the workshop segments of the retreat via MaestroConference (audio-only teleconference) and the reception, lunch and dinner breaks, and post-retreat Q&A, Talk-Story, and Social portions via Zoom (video & audio online conferencing). From the feedback we've gotten from many of our earlier remote retreat participants, our remote retreat is just as great or even better than our on-location retreats because there's no need to travel, or pay for lodging and food! Plus, you get to experience everyone and the teachings even more as the spirit that you are - beyond being a body! So, treat yourself to this re-treat, a gift that will keep giving long afterwards.

May the Light of Truth continue to awaken you and the Love of God keep you on your path.

With gratitude, love, and laughter,

Michael
