Your Lessons in Creative Manifestation

I slept and dreamt that life was joy.

I awoke and saw that life was service.

I acted and behold, service was joy.

—Rabindranath Tagore

Dear SHAPE Community & Graduates of Clairvoyant Programs, AHA! & Our Psychic Tools & Life Mastery Practices Course,

How's Life treating you these days? If you had asked Colette, the early 20th century French author, mime, actress, and journalist, she would have told you, "What a wonderful life I've had! I only wish I'd realize it sooner."

Life is a big topic to discuss—after all, what else is there to talk about? Yet, more often than not, we tend to ignore how wonderful life is until, well, much later in living it. In fact, it's in our awakening process that we begin to appreciate life itself, rather than continuing to pay homage to all the pictures in our mind about the life we are living. The great majority of people incorrectly assume that their perception of life is their experience of life. If how you happen to perceive your life at any given time isn't your experience of life, then what is life experience?

If a tree fell in the middle of the forest, but there was no one there to hear it, did it make a sound? Is there life in this world without you? Remember, you are in this world, but not of it. You are the light—and therefore the life—of the world. So, then, what is your experience of life itself?

Is your life experience about what happens in your life in this world? Or is it about experiencing life regardless of what happens as you live in the world? If it's the former, you'd become part of the world. If it's the latter, you would be in the world experiencing life itself, but not become beholden to it as part of life. In the former, you'd use your creative power to be a body in the world to relate to other bodies in the world. In the latter, you'd find your freedom as limitless and eternal spirit and express your creative power as the light of the world. And each time you see the truth of life as independent of all that appears to happen in the world, you free yourself from the world more and distill wisdom from your life experience in it.

As you already know, the path of awakening is the process of waking yourself up from your dreaming. For most of us, it's a process of waking up bit-by-bit. In a sense, we realize that even a little part of the whole dream is a dream. As we awaken from that part of the dream, our dream changes. The sun may still rise in the East the next morning and you are still incarnated in the same body, nonetheless, something changes in your experience of life in this world from how it used to be. For example, long ago you may have firmly believed that someone or something separate from you had to heal you. Then, as you woke up from that part of your dreaming, you came to realize more and more that you are able to heal yourself from within, even if you may still need some external help in doing so. As you wake yourself up more from various parts of your dreaming, you also begin to discover that more and more of what you previously assumed was reality might not be as it seems. It's not much different from becoming "lucid" in your night dreaming and knowing intuitively that you can fly, walk through walls, never die, and a whole host of other things that previously you may have scoffed at as impossible. A glimpse of limitless reality has a way of doing that.

An important aspect of your awakening process includes uploading all the data of your completed life experiences into the Akashic Records. In the world, technology constantly emulates that process by storing data in a variety of different media. Currently, the most common data storage on a global level is accomplished by uploading data onto a “cloud” maintained by a third-party online cloud storage service. The Akashic Records where your every thought, feeling, utterance, and action are stored is a kind of universal cloud storage service for souls. When you complete your experience of living each moment of your life in the world, those memories and all the data in them are uploaded onto what might be akin to the Akasha Cloud. A Sanskrit word, akasha, in a variety of Indian spiritual teachings can refer to the all-pervading field in the ether in which a record of all past events are imprinted. It’s infinitely more reliable, secure, durable, efficient, and user-friendly than any earthbound servers with data storage devices. Plus, the Akasha Cloud service is free! The only down-side for some people may be that they don’t have a say-so in what they’d like uploaded onto the Akasha Cloud—every little bit of their life experience gets uploaded. In Spirit, there is no such thing as a “secret”!

In the upcoming June SHAPE Remote Retreat Intensive, we’ll explore what life experience is, what the Akasha Cloud Service is for, your process of uploading all of your life experience into your records, and even take a little “field trip” around various parts of the Akashic Records. We’ll check out a couple of particular points in history when many of us got together that directly impacts what we’re doing together this time around. So, be prepared to forgive yourself—and each other—for whatever you judged to be your experience in the past! Hahaha... Remember, Michael Tamura’s Quick Weight Loss Program: Drop All That Unwanted Past and Create The Present Anew! Free Aura-Tuck and Chakro-Suction included, if you order yesterday! (No time and space, right?)

As always, we’ll prepare for the Retreat Intensive itself with the Pre-Retreat TeleSeminar, Between God & The Universe Exploring The Akashic Records and follow-up the intensive with the Post-Retreat TeleSeminar, As Above, So Below Your Lessons in Creative Manifestation. In a way, we’ll explore your upward progression of awakening consciousness through the intensive and go further on the downward creative manifestation process of expressing your true spirit nature in the world in the post-retreat teleseminar. Once again, we'll look at a variety of perspectives on the waking up process, including the upward rise of your kundalini, and the creative manifestation process of expressing who you are in the world, including shining your light in the world and being the life of the whole party as an emanation of the Holy Spirit. Remember, in this world, what goes up must come down! Be joyous, you're overcoming the world.

May You Shine as the Gift of Grace in the World as You Set Yourself Free in It!

With gratitude, love, and joyous celebration,

Michael
